Showery weather delays the harvest

RESTON — Showery weather has interfered with the harvesting and haying operations in the district.

Most of the rye has been swathed and about 25% combined. Indications are that the yield will be above average. One field in the light land at Pipestone is reported to have yielded 35 bushels to the acre.

A start has been made on the swathing of early sown barley, with Peter Baldwin commencing on the field east of the Cemetery on Monday. It will be a week or more before much barley is in the swath, however.

Wheat fields are generally good green and give promise of good yields if they escape damage from frost. The weather has been generally quite cool and heat is needed to ripen the crops.

Experiences at Music Camp

By Colette Barre

The International Peace Gardens Music Camp held their piano and choir session from July 16 to 23. This year I attended the camp and found it a very worthwhile experience. During the same week there was also a drama session, and, for the first time, a swing choir session. The swing choir involved singing and dancing together, and those who took part in it really enjoyed it. A group of people came from as far as Nebraska, U.S.A. for the session. I was not involved in the drama, or swing though.

As soon as we had registered, we had to addition for piano class placement, and voice placement in the choir. There were two choirs. The mixed choir involved girls who had completed grade 11 (and/or) 12, and all high school boys. The girls' choir which I was second soprano in, was made up of grade 10 and 11 girls. Our director was Dr. Joseph Musselman from the University of Montana, known by his initials as "Dr. Music".

Wednesday was faculty night. Here the talent really showed up as instructors and directors put on a concert for us. It included pantomimes, a barber shop quartet, singing and piano playing.

Thursday night was the night the kids took over and showed the teachers what they could do. There were piano and voice solos, hilarious readings, and a swing choir number. Friday night, the four swing choirs displayed in their concert what they had learned in only five days. It was unbelievable.

We were entertained on Saturday night with the drama's club's production of "Love Rides the Rails", a toe-tickling satire. A tremendous amount of work was done by those taking part in the production, for they only had six days to prepare the performance, which made up almost a two-hour show.

Sunday afternoon was the Choir Concert at the formal gardens of the Peace Gardens. It was really amazing to see what had been accomplished in only one week. Most of the people singing in the choir had never had lessons, yet they were performing in three and four part harmony.

The camp was very well organized and much credit goes to all those who handled the four hundred and eighty students registered that week, the largest number of kids to be in the camp at one time, throughout the camp's history of seventeen years.

ALSTONE NOTES

by E. J. Guthrie

Rev. Schurman was back in the pulpit on Sunday morning after his holidays with a nice gathering considering holidays are still on. His talk was on "We use all our gifts. Our opinion is that we don't."

We extend deepest sympathy to the Munro families on the passing of their husband, father, grandfather and brother Peter Munro.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Knox (nee Ina Harrison) of Vancouver and Mrs. Harry Harrison of Sinclair visited with Miss Jackson last week.

We are sorry to have to report that Mrs. Chris Lau who is in Reston Hospital isn't so well again, having suffered a slight stroke the middle of last week.

The honey bee from the bee hive was out gathering honey again and this time from a Scotch thistle patch. But she gathered the honey, plants, and all and brought a nice bouquet of Scotch thistles to our lounge. Thanks Irma.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Smith, of Montreal, left for home on Wednesday after visiting with Donald's mom in the hospital. We think they enjoyed their stay with us at Alstone and we enjoyed having them.

Bill and Evelyn White, of Dryden and Leo and Lucille Curtis of Reston returned last week from a holiday trip into the North-West Territories and visited with Aunt Jessie on Friday night. The Whites left for their home at Dryden on Saturday.

Stan and Lil Shippam came out from Winnipeg on Saturday and visited with their Aunt Ellie Smith over the long weekend. They visited at the tee pee on Saturday night. E. J. loosened up a bit and entertained the Shippams and Auntie Jessie to dinner at the Buttermilk Bar where we received very courteous treatment and service.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Bulloch had as their guests at dinner on Sunday, Clara's three sisters, Gladys and husband Jim Compton from Winnipeg, Irene and Earl Robson of Deleau and Evelyn Rembough, of Vancouver, B.C. Also Clara's friend Mrs. Haidah of Reston. Tables were set up in the lounge and we bet it was quite a party. One thing we feel certain of is that with those five women together the menfolk would have a hard job getting a word in, ha, ha.

Bob and Linda Hunter and daughter Donna of Rosburn visited their aunt Jessie Jackson on Sunday after spending the weekend with Linda's dad and mom, Leo and Lucille Curtis.

E. J. along with Jim Morrison and Wulfe Forsyth attended the big Tilton picnic on Sunday afternoon. Many of the senior citizens in the surrounding districts had written invitations sent to them to be guests of the Tilton people at dinner in the evening. We would like the Tilton ladies to know that we appreciate this very much. There was some real good baseball played, with only one loss-sided game. The rest of the games were close, Lake Metigoshe, North Dakota winning the final game against Tilton. The Tilton boys after a rather shaky start and having a rather large score stacked up against them finally settled down and tied the score but just couldn't quite make it and lost by a score in the last inning.

On Monday, Art Morris, Wattle Reid, of Sinclair and the scribbler took off to the mammoth ball tournament at Souris where we saw some good baseball and some rather poor baseball for the calibre of the teams that were in competition. In our opinion the old reliable, the Riverside team were the solid-est that day which they proved by being ahead in the last inning of the final 2-0 against Souris. The game had to be called at the end of three on account of darkness. We heard that when the two teams started they forgot the three innings completed would be considered a game. There were two teams entered from North Dakota, Fargo and Minot, both strong teams who went down fighting. Dick Limke, one of the pitchers on the Fargo team and who toiled for Souris several summers is still up to old tricks.

Big Bill Carpenter came on in relief for Souris in the last half against Minot and managed to save the game. Bill's arm has been playing him for the last season or two but seemed O.K. yesterday. Maybe cold, damp weather suits Bill.

Bowling at the Park on Thursday night, weather permitting and McClure spares the Lord. A doctor's new secretary was having trouble with his notes on a case which read "Shot in the lumbar region". Completely frustrated she finally figured it out and typed the report: Wounded in the woods.

GAINED: ONE PERSONALITY

We will never know just what the Wolseley Constituency lost when they landslideed Izzy Asper into the Legislature, but it is becoming fairly obvious now what they gained. If nothing else Manitoba politics has gained some color, and more specifically the opposition has gained a personality to counter-balance the outspokenness of the Joe Borowski's and Howard Paulley's on the other side.

As has been observed already Izzy Asper comes to the Legislature with a little of the idealism that characterizes modern young politicians. And what is more important he enters the legislature totally dedicated to the growth of the Manitoba sector of private investment.

As he frankly stated during a pre-election speech, Manitoba's economy is in trouble, but not as yet insoluble trouble.

With the exception of Boeing and the Federal Mint, he continued, no major industries have located in Winnipeg during the last three years. And how we must use every known technique to stimulate our growth, and get us back on an equal parity basis.

"The poor keep getting poorer, and the rich keep getting poorer," he chuckled re-phrasing an old cliché. Becoming serious again he explained how the Legislature had to take a non-party approach to the problem. It is not important now who is to blame, he said, only that we begin to face the problem.

Probably after Asper endures a lengthy session with his fellow MLA's his enthusiasm may dwindle and his passion for ethics disappear. But until then governing could be a very refreshing game, for everyone involved.

At any rate he is already gearing his troops for the coming election, with confidence bolstered by their success in Wolseley.

Some critics felt that Asper won only because he was the party leader displaced from the Legislature. While still others found his Liberalism a distinctive alternative to socialism.

Anyway the vote of confidence for the Liberals was just the incentive the members of an on-the-way-out party needed. Previously to the election the Liberals were slowly being phased out of the provincial political scene. But whether or not this phasing activity has just been momentarily stalled remains to be seen.

permitting it to look more like a lynx. So, please, look sharp and speak kindly; the prodigal may yet return home.

A special salute to Sam Smith for having reported the fulgurite on the D. Van Buuren farm. If it hadn't been for Mr. Smith's kind interest, the lightning hole would have remained unknown to us. Anyway, we saw the results of the lightning blast after Mr. Van Buuren's son had cultivated that area of the field.

High power lines cross the field in question, providing a likely target for lightning. Oddly enough, the flash missed the high power lines or poles by 150 to 180 yards, and struck a rise (not the highest) in the field. The soil is very sandy, showing a high content of fine, clear quartz. (I got a sample from what had sifted into my shoes!) With Mr. Van Buuren's kind co-operation, the spot was relocated and three holes about two feet apart from one another were discovered below the dirt driven by the cultivator. The holes averaged about two inches in diameter, and led down, like tubes, at a very steep angle. No fusing was apparent but a paler color marked portions of upper levels of these tubes. A slightly flexible cane moved with little effort down into two of the holes to its full length, held below ground level. This showed that two holes or tubes extended at last three and a half feet into the ground. A branching tube marked one of the main ones.

Moisture of the ground, due to rain prior to the lightning flash, may have accounted for the great puff of steam and/or smoke that Mr. Van Buuren had seen from a long distance to rise suddenly from the point of contact. When this point was examined, he noticed the ground had a scooped-out appearance, the bottom of the depression being marked by the three holes as described.

This is the story, then of the almost fulgurite. Perhaps a slower type of lightning flash with a more extended heating effect, and a perfectly dry soil condition might have produced the classical glassy, tube-like formation. At least, it is an interesting feature of nature. As an afterthought, the directness of the holes in this case indicates the uniformity of the sandy soil of this part of Mr. Van Buuren's farm, suggesting it straddles one of the ancient beaches of Lake Agassiz.

The Weekend Magazine section of the Winnipeg Free Press has been running a series of articles by Darryl Stewart on Endangered Species. These species are Canadian animals, birds, reptiles, amphibians and fish, and include better known forms such as elk, grizzly, timber wolf, sage grouse, pinnated grouse (true prairie chicken), hog-nosed snake and sturgeon. Mr. Stewart accounts for no less than 64 Canadian species of animal life that are in danger of disappearing forever from the globe—because of civilization. More in two, maybe three, weeks, following a trip to sunny Alberta.

The Editor's Jotbook

Did you know that 132 Canadians have played baseball in the Major Leagues? We didn't either until we picked up a copy of "Bleachers Features" at the local branch of the B of M, which gives the complete list and also their records. One of those playing was Harry Sketcheley, born at Virden, Man., who played in 1942 getting into 13 games and batting .194. He was an outfielder. John M. Kerr, born at Souris, Man., played in one game in 1925 appearing as a pinch runner. One of the most versatile players from western Manitoba was Russell W. Ford who broke into the major in 1909 and played as a pitcher, outfielder and infielder, playing a total of 204 games. His pitching record was 98 wins and 71 losses. . . . This is a subject a long-way from baseball, but we had a few minutes to spare recently while in Winnipeg and as sort of a sentimental journey dropped into the C. N. R. station. It sure was different than in the days when we travelled by train, only a few trains listed on the board, the Super-Continental, the train to Dauphin and Churchill and on Friday's a Campers' special. We remember when there was a long-list of trains and great hustle and bustle. Some day must drop into the C. P. R. station which must be even more deserted with only the Canadian running.

The Days Gone By

10 Years Ago Aug. 9, 1963

One horse, a cow and two calves were killed by lightning during the storm on Sunday morning. . . . The application of John Forsyth of Reston for the position of waterworks foreman, was accepted by the committee at a meeting in the Legion Hall on Tuesday night. His duties will commence as soon as construction starts. . . . Boyd Berry brought in a number of grass-hoppers complete with little red mites, to prove the theory that mites are attacking and killing these pests. . . . Reports are that swathing of rye is general in the district and also that the crop is very heavy and will yield many bushels to the acre. . . . Funeral services for Collin McMurphy, 83 were held in the United Church here on Friday of last week. Rev. C. N. Howard officiated and the Reston United Church Choir attended. . . . The 1962 annual gathering of Sinclairites was held Friday, Aug. 5 at Exhibition Park, Brandon with 65 signing the guest book.

20 Years Ago Aug. 16, 1953

The Owen drilling rig is to move to the Reston district. At least on Wednesday workers on the rig were looking for places to live in town. . . . The first load of this year's crop was delivered to the Pool Elevator at 10:00 a.m. on Saturday. It was barley from the farm of Frank Skeleton west of Reston. . . . The combine representing Reston, Pipestone and Belleville in the Little League tournament at Brandon on Wednesday of last week won the award for sportsmanship and behaviour. They failed however, to win a ballgame. . . . The 14 and under boys met defeat in a close baseball game at Pipestone on Tuesday evening. A return game is scheduled at Reston in the near future. . . . About 10:00 p.m. on Sunday evening the peaceful calm of the town was shattered by the fire alarm. In a few minutes a large crowd gathered at the fire hall only to find the alarm had been set off by pranksters.

30 Years Ago Aug. 12, 1943

The first cutting and threshing of the 1942 crop was noted on Thursday about three miles east of Pipestone where a machine was busy in barley field. . . . A 17-day chicken shooting season was okayed by the game branch of the last week. . . . Morning fogs and heavy dew are the order of these days. Farmers are of the opinion that these are conducive to hasten damage by rust. . . . Quite a number of milking machines have been sold and installed by farmers in this district. The government has received resolutions from boards of trade school boards, and annual meetings of ratepayers recommending that consideration be given to releasing older students from the schools for the purpose of assisting in the harvest.

40 Years Ago Aug. 11, 1932

Further reduction in the prospective yields of crops over large areas in the south and central portions of the prairies have been caused by continuance of hot, dry weather. . . . A public loan of from 150 to 200 million dollars will be floated by the Bennett government this fall to meet the costs of unemployment and the 1932 Canadian National Railway deficit. Reston citizens who have now returned home and are settling down to the prosaic life of the town. . . . The harvest is easily the earliest in the history of the district and farmers are hustling the work of harvesting so that they may have the land put into shape for 1933.

50 Years Ago Aug. 10, 1922

A storm of more than ordinary intensity passed over the district between Reston and Sinclair last Saturday and the hail that fell wrought destruction. The storm was not of long duration, but when it had passed a number of farmers found that their fields were a complete loss while others suffered more or less severely. . . . The Reston club are back from camp and all report having a fine time at Napinka. . . . The result of the mid-summer examinations are very satisfactory, as the province. After a vacation of about two weeks duration, the editor returned to his office work on Monday ready to resume duties involved upon him with renewed vigour. . . . The wards for the standing field crop competition held in this were presented last week. . . . district under the auspices of the Reston Agricultural society E. J. Guthrie won the wheat competition, with George Campbell winning in the oats competition, and George McNeil taking the barley class

West - Man Regional Development Corporation emphasize on Agriculture

RESTON—A report formulated by the West-Man Development Corporation has placed an emphasis on agriculture in the development of the Reston district.

In a ten-page brief submitted to the Manitoba provincial government development agency lists the districts' assets in areas previously surveyed. Also contained in the district development paper are a number of proposals set forth for government consideration.

The brief refers to agriculture as "one of the most important industries in Western Manitoba" and suggests that the industry "should have a large portion of the government consideration in any change taking place in Western Manitoba."

The study proposes that: 1. More selling effort be made in purchasing countries for all agriculture products especially wheat.

2. From the result of more selling effort we believe that better facilities for handling these products must receive a greater portion of available study and finances.

The proposal calls for more inland grain terminals, more use of present branch lines, and an effort to develop Churchill. The possibility of overseas storage areas for Canadian grain should be explored and there should be more producer participation on the Wheat Board.

3. We would like to see more detailed understandable information of the Broomhill aquifer and would like the government to explore as near as possible the extent of its area with a view to irrigation for special crops.

4. The government investigate the high cost of farm repairs and difficulty to procure when needed.

5. Greater testing of farm machinery with a view to enforcing a two year warranty on farm machinery.

The study also listed assets and put forth proposals for: Tourism, recreation, water resources, community service, transportation, education, industrial development, business training and management, medical and elderly people and soil conservation.

Tourism—The brief proposed that the paving of No. 2 highway be completed as soon as possible and asked for financial assistance to spruce up the towns in the district. The corporation also proposed the publication of a list of service stations complete with operating times and asked for money to update museums and mark historical sites.

Recreation—The study proposed greater development of Oak Lake financed by Sweepstakes grants.

Water Resources and Development—The report proposed the purchase of 19,000 acres of land in the Plum Lake area and asked that a goose sanctuary be created and maintained at Oak Lake.

Community Services—West-Man proposes that support for the outlying hospitals and medical services be continued and asked that a thorough investigation into the costs of health services and drugs be conducted. They also asked the government for information concerning the establishment and maintaining of a community library.

Transportation—The development corporation proposes that every effort be made to maintain the present rail services for heavy freight and grain shipment. They also asked the government to lay deep heavy pavement on No. 2 highway for heavy traffic use.

Education—The corporation encourages the use of the present school plants, heated for 3600 hours per year and used for only 1980. They ask for greater publicity for present courses available under the adult education program and ask the government to cease the siphoning of rural schools unless no other course is available.

Proposals for industrial development, medical and elderly people and soil use and conservation were contained under the previous eight headings.

Court news

RESTON—Appearing before Wm. W. Busby, J.P. and fined $28.00 and costs, each, for speeding were: Elwin Martin, of Reston and Lionel Smithson of Pipestone.

Did you help put this smile on Mr. Lindsay's face?

If you've ever bought a ticket to a Manitoba Golden Sweepstakes Draw there's a chance that you helped add some smile into Mr. Lindsay's life.

Mr. Lindsay is 82 years young. Originally from Scotland, he served as an ambulance driver in the First World War and was injured on duty. He then became a liaison officer with the Canadian Militia under Sir Edward Kent and lived in such places as Piccadilly and Ottawa, later to reside in Manitoba, to be employed by a local dairy.

A few years ago Mr. Lindsay was stricken with arthritis. This necessitated a move to a subsidized home for Senior Citizens, where he could be better cared for. Mr. Lindsay likes his home, claiming that the people there are very nice and are always willing to do things for him.

That's where the Manitoba Lotteries comes in... by providing a means through the sale of tickets for groups to build homes for Senior Citizens like Mr. Lindsay, and helping with other worthwhile projects too.

Buy a ticket to the Manitoba Golden Sweepstakes Football Draw. The $2.50 you'll pay for a ticket will buy a chance to win a $100,000 cash prize, and will help keep Mr. Lindsay and many others smiling.

IN MEMORIAM

ADAMS— In loving memory of Stewart, who passed away,
Aug. 15, 1968.

Someone remembers and someone cares,
Your name is whispered in all our prayers,
A smile, a tear, a thought sincere,
How often we wish that you were here,
Always together in memories
lane,
To-day, to-morrow, always the same.

—Always remembered and sadly missed by your wife Margaret.

WHEELANS— In loving memory of Richard Wheelans, husband, father and grandfather, who passed away Aug. 13, 1970.
We did not see you close your eyes,
Or hear your last faint sigh.
We only heard that you were gone,
Too late to say goodbye.

No longer in our lives to share,
But in our hearts you are always there.

You gave us years of happiness
Then came sorrow and tears.
But you left us beautiful memories,
We will treasure through the years.

Though absent, you are always near,
Still loved, still missed and ever dear.

A wonderful man was laid to rest,
For each of us, he did his best,
He shared our hopes, our joys,
our tears,
God bless you for all those wonderful years.

—Ever remembered and sadly missed by his wife Nellie and all his family.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to thank the Dublin and Broomhill districts for the lovely stacking stools and comforter received at our wedding.

Judy & Doug Jago

We wish to thank all our friends and relatives for gifts, cards and good wishes on our 45th anniversary.

Thanks to all who assisted in the afternoon and evening lunch and teas, and all other help.
Geoff and Dela Hutton

I would like to say thank you to my relations and friends for cards, parcels and enquiries while I was in Reston and Misericordia Hospital, also thanks to Dr. Furston, Moharib and nurses for the care I received in both hospitals.

Ernest Jago

I would like to take this opportunity to thank my many friends and relatives for the lovely gifts I received at my you to the hostesses for the lovely shower they had for me.

Lynne Boulton

We would like to convey our heartfelt thanks to the Hospital Staff, Dr. Furston, Rev. Schur-

6 THE RESTON RECORDER

Reston, Man., Aug. 18, 1972

Head of a London secretarial college says British stenographers are "clumsy," untidy, slow, ill-taught, and handle their typewriters with all the delicacy of a honky-tonk piano player. The report doesn't inform whether that college head is male or female.

Here's a new switch: A report from a B.C. modelling agency says, "self-discipline, good personality, determination and desire to learn are more important to a girl than good looks or appearance" — that's including blue jeans?

Confucius say: It is a worthy aim never to unduly show off, and never to brag."

A news note tells us the horse was trained by man almost two thousand years ago — but the way some nags kick up at these Stampedes, seems like it didn't altogether take.
