'Wilderness Journey' to be shown in Reston Theatre

RESTON — Wilderness Journey, a tense, dramatic, yet heart-warming outdoor adventure picture produced on location in Alaska will be shown in the Memorial Theatre here on March 23 at 7:00 and 9:00 p.m.

An extraordinary emergency high in some of the world's most remote mountains sends Joniko, a young Tlingit Indian boy, on a desperate search to find his father, away on a hunt. In this suspense-filled tale, the boy must become a man and confront the rulers of the animal kingdoms, asking permission to pass through each of their domains. He travels through a magnificent, scenic wilderness, abounding with wildlife: moose, grizzlies, caribou, dall sheep and in one of the most startling photographic sequences ever filmed, the 60 ton gray whale.

The role of Joniko is played by 12 year old Tony Tucker Williams, a real Tlingit Indian chosen from among 500 applicants for the part. Chuck D. Keen wrote, photographed, and was the inspiration behind Wilderness Journey. The director was Ford Beebe, long with Walt Disney Production, who gained fame as film producer of Disney's Lonesome Cougar.

Spectacular camera work marks this unusual color production, which earned the Grand Award at the Photographic Society of America's 40th annual film festival.

Wilderness Journey, G-rated, is a Rainbow Adventure Film released through American National Enterprises, the company that brought you Cougar Country. This is the unique motion picture film dedicated to presenting only all-family entertainment to the public.

Pipestone council hear details on School Tax Reduction Act rebates

RESTON—Jack Robinson and John Dell, of Souris, representing the Assessment Branch of the Provincial Government, attended the R.M. of Pipestone Council meeting held here on Thursday of last week.

They explained the School Tax Reduction Act, which basically gives a rebate of half the school taxes up to $50.00 for every residential parcel of land on which is situated one or more dwelling units. In effect, this act will mean that most farmers will receive a $50.00 reduction in their school taxes, while many village residents will also, provided the assessment is sufficient that the school tax comes to $50.00 or over.

Also interviewing the council were Rev. E. Schurman, Jim King and A. D. Mennie of the Reston U.V.D. They discussed the budget for the newly organized Unincorporated Village District.

Third and final reading was given to a by-law closing a portion of the public road between SW ¼ 1-8-26 and NW ¼ 36-7-26 and opening a road diversion across SW ¼ 1-8-26 in lieu thereof and also to another by-law closing a public road between Road Plan No. V10 in lieu thereof.

A by-law selling the NW ¼ and SE ¼ of 21-8-29 to M. W., L. G. and J. W. Thordarson was given three readings and passed. Because Dr. Lockhart's house has been assessed in the basis that it had a basement and there is none, a refund in taxes for the past two years was authorized.

It was decided that the Public Works Committee would hold a meeting on Thursday afternoon, April 6th.

Accounts totaling $52,294.53 for general municipal and $597.75 for waterworks operating were ordered paid.

Reeve Carl Wedow occupied the chair and all members were present except Councillor Jim Milliken.

taken on the submissions as a result of the Regional Action Program.

Another resolution dealt with the erosion of our National Identity and especially the elimination of the initials R.C.M.P. and asked that no further removal of things that make Canada distinctive be made.

A resolution calling for the appointment of market development officers or salesmen for Canadian grain in strategic countries around the world be made. In the resolution it was pointed out that the five missions sent to various countries in the world reported that grain sales had been lost because there were no selling agencies in these countries.

Another resolution points out the inequities of the present regulations concerning policing. Villages of less than 500 people are policed without direct costs to them while villages of 500 or more people must pay for the policing services. This means that it costs as much for a village of 500 for R.C.M.P. policing as it does for a place of 1000 or more residents, and there can be a wide difference in the assessment.

The Chamber also passed a resolution calling for free trade in automobiles from the western provinces and the Maritimes.

Rev. Schurman was appointed as a delegate to the annual meeting of the Manitoba Chamber of Commerce to be held at Portage in April.

The action of the executive in nominating Art Smith for zone director, was confirmed.

ALSTONE NOTES

by E. J. Guthrie

A misty morning on Sunday but it didn't deter people from coming out to Church in pretty good numbers. The Reverend's sermon on Status Symbols was both impressive and enlightening.

Rev. and Mrs. Hester came to Alstone on Sunday for their afternoon service which was enjoyed by those present. The Reverend and his wife sang a duet which everyone enjoyed. Reg and Ernest Campbell and the Bambridge twins called and were asked to sit in at the service which they did and which we hope they enjoyed. They had called to see E. J. but the stinker had played truant and was absent. Sorry folks but hope you will call again some time.

We extend thanks to the Skidoo Club for their efforts in raising money toward the extension and improvements on Alstone.

A good fairy in the form of a Leprechaun came to Alstone the morning of St. Patrick's day and brought us a treat of Irish stew and fresh biscuits. A nice little Leprechaun came with her and we liked her. The stew was delicious and the biscuits were five star. Thanks so much for your kindness.

We were rather shocked for a while on Friday morning to hear that little Bo-Peep had lost her sheep and didn't know where to find them. But she left them alone and they were found, safe on the organ bench out in the lounge.

A whist drive was held in the lounge Tuesday night of last week with four tables taking part. Some of the players being visitors. Mrs. Walter Brown had the high score and was presented with a refresher kit. Mrs. Herb Dickson got the consolation prize which was a parcel of sweets. Lunch was served after the cards by the hostess of the month and a cake was cut to celebrate Grace Milliken's birthday which was coming up in a day or two.

On Thursday night Bev and Mary Milliken and family dropped in to say hello to mom on her birthday and most of us gathered in the lounge. Mary had been in the cake building business again and built a real dandy this time which she served with ice cream, yum, yum. Some of us think that Grandma Grace should have a birthday at least twice a year.

Wee Pam Hutchison and her sister called the other afternoon and brought some of us some donuts. We always enjoy Pam's visits. The donuts were real tasty, Pam.

The following was received Monday afternoon: To all the residents of Alstone, thank you very much for sponsoring me on the Snowmobile-a-thon to Oak Lake. Your generous donations totaled $63.50 bringing my total up to almost $100.00. It was a rough, hard ride, for an old unconditioned chap like me but it was worth it. Thanks again, "Waddy Winch."

Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Isaac, of Sinclair left some pastry and some cream on the tee pee the other day, people say that the proof of the pie is in the eating and we sure proved this one to be good. Thanks so much folks.

The ladies annual bonspiel is now history with one hundred and seventy-six lady curlers taking part. Never have we seen as many lady curlers looking more smartly and neatly dressed. We think that Elsie Brown of Virden might be the oldest curler taking part and she still throws a bothersome rock. We think that Dale Nash curling lead rock for mother Sheila, would be the youngest curler. In a young curler never have I seen a smoother delivery and more accurate broom getting. Keep up the good work Dale and some day you will probably make the Canadian championships. Elsie Brown and Dale Nash curled against one another in one of the finals which shows that both old and young can into finals.

We took in several afternoons of the 'spiel and found Big Train Morris, the friendly ice maker the usual good host. Big Train's latest philosophy is that it doesn't matter how many B. A.'s or Ph. D.'s you have after your name, it's what you have under your hat that counts.

The people of the Kinloss district came to Alstone on Saturday night about 60 strong and put on a variety concert for our entertainment. Fred Stonehouse Jr., was M. C. and did a good job.

The program consisted of musical numbers, songs, readings and a contest as well as the odd story. The M. C. stated that he had several stories submitted to him by Verna Busby, but after considerable screening he considered it was better not to use them at a Saturday night party. Next time you folks come we will have a week day party Verna. The Sid Jago family performed together. Going to have quite a troop when you get the show on the road Sid. The Concert ended with several squares of square dancing by the Kinloss members of the Square Dance Club. Bev Milliken did the calling and is becoming a good caller. The Kinloss ladies served a wonderful lunch after the program and a grand visit was had over the tea cups.

Ellie Smith thanked the Kinloss people for giving us such a lovely evening. There must have been about 70 people present and we enjoyed every bit of it. Thanks people of Kinloss, we will welcome you again any time.

Elmer Bulloch made us a lovely planter last week and he and Marion brought it down and put it in the lounge and planted a tropical plant in it which will help to brighten up the lounge. We don't know how to spell the name of the plant but it sounds like Diefenbaker. We thank Elmer and Marion very much for their thoughtfulness.

Some of us attended the Ecumenical Service in the Anglican Church on Friday night. It was a good service, Rev. Hester and Rev. Schurman both took part. What we were short of was some United Church members and a priest.

Two fools had cars they thought perfection; They met one day at an intersection; Too-

ECOLOGICAL TIME BOMBS

There is concern — and there should be — over recent reports on both sides of the Atlantic of drums of dangerous chemicals lost at sea.

The first report says that 170 heavy steel drums containing the residue of a gasoline antiknock compound, tetraethyl lead, were washed overboard from the deck cargo of a Brazilian freighter sailing from Montreal to U.S. East Coast ports. The drums were lost in a storm somewhere southeast of Sable Island and off Yarmouth, N.S. They may drift to the Nova Scotia Scotia.

E. I. Du Pont de Nemours & Co., Wilmington, Del., disclosing the loss, warns that the drums should not be punctured or the double seal removed. The contents are flammable and extremely hazardous if its vapor is inhaled or the substance spilled on the skin. The company says this is the first time in 30 years of sea shipments of the chemical that containers have been lost.

The second case is more serious. Barrels of poisonous chemicals are being washed ashore in Britain from a Spanish vessel which sank in the English Channel two months ago. The chemicals, according to a London newspaper, are highly dangerous and the area in which they are coming ashore is faced with an ecological time bomb of potentially disastrous proportions.

These two reports suggest that Ottawa should take the initiative, with other maritime nations, to have a close look at the transporting of dangerous chemicals by sea. More stringent international regulations controlling the movement of dangerous chemicals is essential. Canada's 17,860 miles of vulnerable coastline—Atlantic, Arctic and Pacific—make safeguards especially desirable.

WHERE IT GOES

As we await the federal Government's new budget, a brief look at the past record will give us an indication of what we may expect — more spending if the trend of the last decade is any guide.

The 1971-72 budget was a record in itself. Ottawa's scheduled spending programs amounted to more than $14 billion, a new record and equal to $660 for every man, woman and child in Canada. It was also twice as much as seven years ago. The Gross National Product, to be sure, has not quite doubled over the same period.

We all know where this money comes from — taxes, paid by individuals and the companies for which they work. But — where does it go? Who gets it? Not too many Canadians have much idea.

The following table shows how each dollar paid in federal taxes is spent now and seven years ago (because figures have been rounded, total exceeds 100 cents):

	1971-72 cents	1964-65 cents
Health and Welfare	25	25
Economic Development and Support	14	11
Interest on Public Debt	14	15
Defence	13	21
Equalization Payments	9	5
Provinces	9	5
Transportations and Communications	7	11
Internal Overhead	6	4
General Government Services (Parliament, Law Courts, etc.)	4	4
Educations Assistance	4	0.4
Culture and Recreation	4	2
Foreign Affairs	2	2

The largest proportion increase, of course, has been in federal expenditures on education assistance. This is money Ottawa pays to the provinces to help them finance post-secondary education. Another substantial increase over the seven-year period is in equalization payments to the provinces.

ing all persons standing on the equator at that time to have a sudden sunstroke!

Six student reports about 13 crows seen since March 12 carry news conviction about the new season that equatorial head-aches D. Flannery of Pipestone reported a Western Meadowlark he observed repeatedly March 13, also some black birds. Maybe the latter were Rusty Blackbirds, if the head displayed a greenish shine, or just Starlings if chunky, short in the tail, speckled on the underside, and possessing a prominent, ivory-colored bill.

March 13, Fred Nixon and Wayne Stonehouse saw 6 Mountain Bluebirds one-quarter mile west of Sinclair; March 15, Donna and Valerie Hall and Debbie Jorgensen observed two at Ebor; same day, Roy Campbell sighted two others a mile north of Reston; March 18, Bob O'Rourke saw one near the old Paramount School; and March 19, we saw three east of the old Lampton School. Bluebirds have been known to show up as early as March 7 in this district.

But this is not all. Last Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Willard Heath and Fraser sighted about 30 geese north of Broomhill; Dean and Randy Henset surprised a female Mallard two miles east of the Reserve; Brian, Wendy, Shirley and Jimmy Duncan observed a Robin 4 miles south of Sinclair. March 19 proved eventful for us when we observed a Rough-legged Hawk perched at the top of a tall poplar just west of Walter Braun's farm. Bluebirds already mentioned, and a male and female Mallard on the Homer Davis farm. This kind of hawk may even be a middle-March migrant, but fourteen years of recorded bird-watching show this to be the extraordinarily earliest arrival date for Mallard ducks.

Someone may sagely remark that, nonetheless, it takes the presence of Robin or Martin to declare the arrival of spring. Ha! What about the Robin that Mrs. B. Pierce saw and heard on the morning of March 15! And 2 Purple Martins visited Mr. Frank Toews' Martin house March 13! Martins normally don't arrive till the beginning of May, perhaps the end of April. In town, pleasant music comes from visiting bands of Bona Grosbeaks, males colorful with deep rosy heads and throats. Bright black, white and yellow identified a lone Evening Grosbeak on the front lawn last Friday. And Saturday brought the same observer the bustling sight of about 50 Bohemian Waxwings in trilling (Mr. Editor, leave that H alone!) flight.

But the dawning of spring again is not all for the birds. In town or in the Pipestone Creek, rising water adds to the season's discomfort or interest, and excitement. Little is the pleasure upon one's discovering that sinking waters outside mean rising levels inside. Is spring raising its lovely head in your basement?

Congratulations to all who locally entered the Brandt's Science Fair and those who won awards. Try better next year.

Outdoors lovers: remember to take in that "Wilderness Journey" with "Bigfoot" March 23.

Yours naturally,

Sauce for the Goose

by Dave Forsyth

Was word in the Daily here and I expect far and wide of a man of 32 dying in Vancouver after having been given a general anesthetic for the removal of an ingrown toenail. From this distance we don't know any details but almost wonder if the doctors shouldn't have been compelled to take a breathalyzer test.

A general anesthetic usually necessary for major surgery is nothing to be trifled with. I have personal knowledge of a case where the effect of the

The Days Gone By

10 YEARS AGO (Mar. 15, 1962)

Lynn McEvoy who will leave Antler shortly to live at Dauphin is honoured at a social evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. Fletcher on Saturday evening. Alon Nixon, on behalf of those present made the presentation of a purse to Lynn. A successful carnival was held in the Tilted Rink on Friday evening, March 9th at which Lorraine Jones was the princess.

George Pengelly with his rink of E. Pengelly, S. Cathill and E. Pengelly won the Aggregate at the Cromer 'spiel' which was concluded recently. Over 400 attended the Carnival in the Reston Rink on Saturday. The all-day affair included a 16 rink bonspiel, a double-header hockey match in the afternoon and in the evening figure skating, costume judging, racing and a broomball game. Keith Forbes, Jim Morrison, George Morrison and Gerald Hicks of Hartney won the 'spiel' with Cecil Brownlee, Howard Wilton, Keith Williamson and Garry Page of Sinclair second.

20 YEARS AGO (Mar. 20, 1952)

C. S. Campbell with Mrs. C. S. Campbell, Art Morris and Don Benzie won the Citizens and Aggregate at the mixed bonspiel which concluded on Monday. They had seven wins and one loss. The Challenge was won by Ron Everett, Diane Martin, Jack Fotheringham and Abe Haidish, all students at the high school. Recorder: Alan Davis, Toots and Margie Halbairn and H. Claus, Pipestone; Merchants, Peter Halldorson, Mrs. Glyn Jones, Mrs. Steve Gates and Oliver Bright, Sinclair. A daughter, born on St. Patrick's Day to Mr. and Mrs. E. Isaac of Sinclair was the first baby to be born in the Reston Hospital. Dr. F. H. Clark and Nurse Mrs. M. E. White were in attendance. A long list of gifts was given to the child.

Law and order prevails in Reston these days. With six or seven R. C. M. P. officers in town even the parking regulations are being obeyed. The officers are still patrolling the Manitoba-Saskatchewan border enforcing the ban on Saskatchewan cattle. It is anticipated that the ban will be lifted in the near future.

30 YEARS AGO (No paper available)

Accompitrycrowd was on hand in the Reston Rink on Tuesday night to witness a game of hockey between Reston and Hartney. The Hartney team were strengthened by Butcher and Wynne, of Reston while Reston had two players from Cromer, Ritchie and Grey. Peter Munro handled the game and the final score was 5 to 0 for Reston. Bill Matthews won first place for his entry of hogs at the Brandon Winter Fair. Adolph Hennick, of Pipestone, entered the judging competition at the Winter Fair at Brandon and won first for judging cattle and second in swine judging. H. Catter, a Minneapolis millionaire, announces that he is sick of being rich and is going to give up his wealth. If those who are poor could so easily give up poverty everything in the garden would be rosy.

Wm. Sutcliffe Jr., has purchased a farm about eight miles south of town and has the lumber on the grounds to erect a house and other buildings. The work will commence as soon as the weather moderates. The question of forming a High School District is being discussed and has the approval of the Department of Education. Included would be all of twp. 7 & the south-half of twp. 8 in ranges 22, 28 and 29 and also twp. 8 in ranges 27 and 28. There would be a separate board to look after the high school only.

Anesthetic wore off during a two-hour operation and the patient had to complain. He was given something further in his arm and lost at least a day over it. Two different nurses told him he had them worried. They thought they were going to lose him.

I have wondered if he didn't have some of the anesthetic administered, but at least he didn't lose his life to have his toe nails cut.

Till birds arrive with trilling song
And winter parts ragged thong
That for so long has held his sway,
And his cold breath passes away?
Then when lakes from puddles grow,
And drainage seems so very slow,
Houses threatened with deluge deep
As weary labourers their vigil keep.
When waifs, with great wander-just Play in mud instead of dust.
O, great golden orb, use your thrust
And let, change all this, be your must.
Why this longing, life go by,
As to rush this thing we try?
Would it be not better we pray,
"Dear Lord, Thy will be done this day?"

The way sulphur affects yield is dramatically shown in test done by Dr. M. Nyborg and Dr. C. F. Bentley, soil scientists at the University of Alberta.

The test plots received nitrogen (N), phosphate (P) and potash (K), with or without sulphur (S). LEFT: Galt barley grown on Gray-Wooded soils had an average yield increase of 10.7 bushels when sulphur was added. RIGHT: Echo rape grown on Gray-Wooded soils deficient in sulphur had an increase of 1,600 lbs. per acre when sulphur was added.

Two U.G.G. fertilizers, 21-0-0 and 34-0-0 (Nitro-plus), can provide the needed sulphur at no extra cost.

Your soil probably needs sulphur ... here's how to get it at no extra cost!

What's so wonderful about sulphur?

Good question. Because just a few years ago, prairie soils didn't need additional sulphur, or so it was thought. Most farmland had all the sulphur needed to produce top-yielding crops. Except on the Gray-Wooded soils you find up north.

But things have changed. Now, soil scientists say most soils need 10 to 25 lbs. of sulphur per acre. They also need nitrogen and phosphorus, of course, for top yields of cereals and oil seed crops.

For instance, in University of Manitoba tests last year, rape yielded most when sulphur was added along with nitrogen and phosphorus. In fact, the average scientific tests showed rape yields were increased by 51 per cent with sulphur. Yields went from 16 bushels per acre with no sulphur to 21 bushels when 20 lbs. of sulphur were added.

And in University of Alberta tests, sulphur increased barley yields an average of 8 to 10 bushels per acre. Not only does sulphur boost yields, it also hastens maturity, gives the dark green healthy color to plants. And it helps increase protein and oil content of oil seed crops.

Where do you get the sulphur?

The best way is to buy the nitrogen and get the sulphur free. And either 21-0-0 or Nitro-plus from United Grain Growers gives your crop all the nitrogen it needs, plus sulphur at no extra cost. There are 480 lbs. of sulphur in every ton of 21-0-0 and 220 lbs. in Nitro-plus.

When you spread 21-0-0 or Nitro-plus on your cereal, oil seed or grassland, you get even, trouble-free spreading whatever kind of machine you use. That's because they are both free flowing. They are resistant to moisture and won't cake in the bag under normal conditions.

And they are available in bulk to save you time and money.

Ask your U.G.G. Elevator Manager about 21-0-0 and Nitro-plus. Both are designed to make up the sulphur deficiency that is appearing in most prairie soils.

While you're at it, plan all your fertilizer needs with him, so there won't be any delays in getting fertilizer when you need it.

If U.G.G. sells it ... it has to be good

Management Tip

How to Grow an Extra Bushel of Grain for 12 to 40¢

The amount of nitrogen you need depends on the yield you shoot for.

For instance, you aim for a 60-bushel crop of barley. This needs 1.5 lbs. of nitrogen for each bushel yield. The nitrogen can be broadcast as 21-0-0 or Nitro-plus for about 9.6¢ a lb. Of course, the amount you spread will depend on your soil test report. Then, too, phosphate is needed and can be supplied as 11-48-0 or 13-55-0.

The extra bushel of barley you grow from added nitrogen costs only 14.3¢.

And the only other cost is storing and handling the extra bushels you harvest.

*The amount of nitrogen per bushel needed for a 40-bushel wheat crop is 2.125 lbs.; for an 80-bushel oat crop 1.250 lbs. and for a 30-bushel rape crop 3.968 lbs. The cost for each extra bushel of wheat produced is 20.1¢, oats 11.8¢ and rape 37.7¢.

Dear Editor:

I am enclosing a clipping that my father Mr. H. W. Zarn had sent me some years ago, telling of a neighbour boy who was born and raised near our home in the Sinclair and Bardal district. I knew the family well. Irvin as he was called had only one sister and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Johnson. We often met the Johnson family at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Grey, who were our close neighbours and friends.

Irvin took his schooling in the Bardal School and as he grew taller he became conscious of his height, therefore found it hard to mix with the youth his age. Finally, while he was having a pair of shoes made to fit at a shoe shop, he got in contact with a circus manager (in the U.S.A.) who hired him and through travelling around in the United States and Canada Irvin's life had changed.

On his first trip home to visit his family, I saw him on the platform in Sinclair Hall speak to the community and tell of his experiences.

I would like to know if any one knows the whereabouts of Irvin Johnson. I believe his parents and sister have passed away.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Edith (Zarn) Allen

Below is the clipping mentioned in the letter. It is headed: Eight-Footer and Midget Visit Winnipeg Together.

Manitoba's skyscraping schoolboy returned to the city today in the person of Gunar Irving Johnson, born and raised in Sinclair, Man. Mr. Johnson, who stands eight feet tall in his socks and wears a specially constructed pair of shoes, size 26, is passing through Winnipeg on his way to Menominee, Wis., accompanied by his friend, Major Arthur, 37 inches tall, and his manager, O. H. Olson.

When the trio paid a visit to the Mitchell Grain Co. this morning to watch the amuse of the wheat market, it looked as if "the world's tallest human" would have to walk upstairs until the elevator man obligingly opened a trap door in the top of his car through which Mr. Johnson poked his head on the ride up.

Lewis Russell family honored at social

RESTON—Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Russell and family were honored at a special evening held in the Legion Hall on Wednesday evening of last week. Mr. Russell had been lab technician at Reston Community Hospital for a number of years and left last week for Gimli where he will take up duties at the hospital there.

Kelly, Exner, was the M. C. for the evening. Entertainment consisted of cards and visiting. Rev. E. Schurman contributed a poem written for the occasion. Mrs. Ethel Bulloch escorted the honored guests to their seats of honor and Mrs. Helen Clausen pinned a corsage on Mrs. Russell.

The presentation was made by Bob Froese on behalf of the community, it being an engraved wall plaque and a purse. Alana Froese on behalf of the Sunday School made the presentation to the Russell children.

A large number attended the affair.

"Pioneer flashback"

PIONEER COUPLES HONORED AT GATHERING IN BELSES DISTRICT, 1931

Pipestone, Man.

On the evening of Wednesday June 27th over one hundred people of the Belses district gathered in the school to honor two, now retired, pioneer couples of the district, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dadds and Mr. and Mrs. James Dadds.

The gathering had been planned as a picnic but poor weather conditions forced it indoors, where relay games were played.

The honored guests were seated on the platform and Mr. Dave Forsyth read the following address: "Honored guests and neighbors, I have been asked to say a few words today on behalf of the people of Belses. Personally, I felt that a resident of longer standing should be speaking but I can say that when my father and uncle came to this locality over sixty years ago they found a thriving, Scottish, settlement already established, of which the Dadds family formed a part. Proud of their Scottish tradition they brought with them, the name of their old home and gave it to the new one, Belses."

It must really have taken the pioneers spirit and courage for a whole family to break the ties with the land of their fathers and cross the Atlantic and half a continent in search of a new home and wider opportunities.

What hardships they must have endured, what inconveniences they must have suffered, only the pioneers know.

What this country was like sixty years ago is rather hard for us today to imagine and could the settlers of those days have foreseen the country as it is today, with roads, automobiles, telephones and hydro.

The Dadds' were the blacksmiths of the ancient settlement. The homesteader took his share to the smithy, took the team for a round while the job was being completed and especially were he a bachelor, which was often the case, he seldom left that home without a meal or at least a cup of tea.

The name Dadds through the years has come to stand for service in the community, hospitality and good neighborliness.

To us from falling hand they say, "The torch, be ours to hold it high."

It may be said that we were rather slow in getting up something for the folks but we didn't really feel that they had left the district they had only moved to the residential section of Belses—Pipestone.

If you look around there you will find many names from here Dadds, Elliott, Forke, Hopkins, Milligan and Mills.

Though the folks have retired from the more active part of the community we know that they are taking a kindly interest in what we are doing.

As we honor our pioneers and wish them well, we ask that they accept these simple tokens of respect from the people of Belses.

Mrs. H. Hopkins and Mrs. Tom Corbett presented the couples with matching floor lamps and Mrs. H. Hopkins and Miss Jennie Dempsey presented the ladies with corsages.

Mr. Robert Dadds thanked the Irish concert held

PIPESTONE—The annual Irish Concert was held in the Community Hall on St. Patrick's Day, March 17th. Mr. Frank Palmore was the M.C. for the evening, which opened with O Canada.

Other items on the program were: a duet by Judy and Anna Marie Deremians, a duet by Mrs. Norma Grant and Pat; a duet by Patty Marsh and Sandra Perreault. Mr. Dave Bailey contributed a violin solo as did Mr. Frank Gay. Vocal solos were by Mr. Lorne Watt and Mrs. Ella Stevens. Mrs. Alice Senkbell gave an organ solo.

Mr. Ed Milligan played a solo number on his violin. A sing-along with Mrs. Ella Stevens and Mrs. Alice Senkbell was also enjoyed by all. The evening closed with singing God Save the Queen.

A dance and lunch followed, with music by the Pipestone orchestra.

analysts, would be used because of the volume of work anticipated. He said an important feature would be the provision of services for certain 000 intensive care unit now unpublic health work — such as milk and water analysis — as well as clinical work.

Mr. Evans said construction of the regional laboratory coincided with the addition of a $300,000 construction and the planned development of a $5.2 million, 200-bed extended treatment hospital to replace the present Assiniboia Hospital.

He said these projects, together with a program to improve emergency care services at the Brandon General and to provide a centralized laundry service at the Hospital for Mental Diseases, constitute an additional $7 million worth of new health care services to Brandon.

5 THE RESTON RECORD

Reston, Man., Mar. 23, 1928

Mr. Toupin said these "much-needed facilities" would contribute significantly to the upgrading of the acute care, chronic treatment and public health efforts of a growing section of the province.

He said the new laboratory represented the vanguard of his department's plans to regionalize its services and at the same time to decentralize authority over their operation. He described it as a major step towards future joint efforts to bring the provincial government and local communities together in the administration of essential services.

● Confucius says: "In all matters success depends on preparation. Without preparation, there will be failure."

● And when little Justin grows up to be old enough to ask "What did you do when you were in the House of Commons, Daddy?" you can bet Pierre Elliott won't say "Look it up in Hansard, son."

● News item says: mail was delivered in some Western Canada settlements in 1962 by ox-team ... and there are fellows who'll swear it hasn't speeded up a heck of a lot since.

● Couple of Chicago doctors issue a warning that a great percentage of folding money is contaminated with dangerous bacteria ... which brings to mind the growled complaint of one fella that "no bug could live on his pay."

● Worry kids more people than hard work ... so, not to worry!

● National NDP leader David Lewis is quoted as saying in Winnipeg that "resignations from a cabinet is a sign of strength" ... well, it's a sign of something.

● If the shade of Louis Riel should visit the Manitoba Legislature grounds, it would probably say, like Cato the Roman statesman, "Better people should ask why no Statute was erected in my honor than why this one was!"

● Nothing is so deceiving as a politician's facts ... unless it be figures.

● Mr. Prime Minister Trudeau calls Mr. B. C. Premier Bennett a "bigot" because he thinks there are too many French people in Ottawa. Maybe some other Westerners besides Bennett think likewise ... but anyway, "bigot" is just one more addition to the things "Wacky" has been called.

● Experience is the best teacher ... but the pay comes high.

● Both Manitoba Liberal and New Democrat parties are reportedly deep in the red by some $50,000 or so. They should buy up a bunch of those Manitoba Sweepstakes tickets ... never know your luck!

● Autopac forms have been mailed out (some 40,000) with return envelopes on which there is an error in spelling ... this is another computer slip up?

● The ancient Chinese sage, Confucius, declared "in education, the important thing is respect for the teacher" ... and could be both of them are right.

● The titles and dust jackets of some books being published these days are the best part of them.

● Tip of the old eady to those 50 fine young people from various points in Manitoba who last week end were initiated into the order of DeMolay ... a most worthwhile organization that aims at building better citizens and promoting responsibility.

● Overheard in the ST. REG-IS rotunda: "Anyway, there's one thing you must give Ed.
Schreyer and his mates and ex-mates credit for—they sure can make headlines.

RESTON

LIONS CLUB

Dine & Dance

● The annual spring party—the dine and dance—will be held this year on Friday, April 28th in the Community Rink with the Alex Fraser Combo providing the music. This event, has in the past been most enjoyable, and no doubt this spring's renewal will carry on this tradition. And best of all, of course, is that profits from the venture will go towards the Reston Lions Club community improvement funds. So remember to keep Friday, April 28th free for an evening of fun and entertainment.
