Ninety-five at the A. A. meeting

RESTON—Many things people wanted to know about alcoholism were revealed Sunday evening in the United Church Hall, Reston, when speakers Tom B. for Alateen, Lillian H. for Al-Anon and Bob H. for Alcoholics Anonymous gave a story. People from all age groups were there to hear this story; the story of what amounts to a rescue for those who fall under this affliction.

The down hill trek of alcoholism, the patience, the perseverance, the pure grit and faith needed by the spouse and children in the trying time before the alcoholic hits "Bottom" and turns with doubt and trepidation to A. A. All this was told by these speakers.

The feeling of doubt of the alcoholic as he approaches his first meeting, the slow realization that he is not alone and that he is with friends who understand; and that none of the things said in this or any other meeting will be revealed unless he himself reveals them, the growing confidence that God, as they come to know Him, can and will take them through the twelve steps of the A. A. program. All this and much more came to light as the able speakers told their part in the unfolding scene of Alcoholism as they experienced it. They told, with convincing simplicity, of the necessity and aid to each other they were in the fellowship of A. A.

The Reston group wish to thank all who came to the meeting (approximately 95) to hear this story and for making the meeting well worthwhile.

Reston U. V. D. rate down 20 mills

RESTON—Ratepayers of the Reston U.V.D. will pay $2.4 mills on their home property and 78.3 mills on commercial property this year compared with 79.0 mills last year when the district was an L.I.D. In addition the business tax is 10%, the same as last year and the frontage is unchanged at 50c a foot.

A rebate of up to $50.00 per habitable dwelling is also in effect, provided that the school tax is $100.00 or more on a parcel.

On Dean's honor roll

WINNIPEG—Ronald Rutherford, of Pipestone was one of the 17 students of the Diploma Course in Agriculture who was named to the Dean's Honour Roll.

Graduation exercises for the class were held recently at the University of Manitoba.

Morley Forsyth, of Reston, was also one of the graduates.

School tax down by $110,000

RESTON—Most taxpayers in the R.M. of Pipestone will pay less this year due to the reduction of over $110,000.00 required for school purposes, because Fort La Bosse became a unitary division on January 1st and thus became eligible for greatly increased provincial grants.

Changes which make a comparison with last year difficult are the formation of the Reston Unincorporated Village District and the differential in school taxes, whereby business and property and parcels assessed as personal property pay a greater mill rate than residential and farm property.

Municipal spending this year is budgeted for a total of $550,461.24 compared with $600,875.03 last year. Included in the current year's expenditures is the purchase of a new Caterpillar tractor at a cost of $53,000.00. The expenditures are broken down as follows (last year's figures in brackets). General government services $68,801.00 ($56,618.70); Protective services $2200.00 ($8700.00); Public Health & Welfare $11,400.00 ($12,085.83); Economic Development Services $3100.00 ($3001.20); Recreation and Cultural Services $2910.00 ($5335.00); Fiscal services $356,350.24 ($414,034.80). Note: some of the changes are due to the formation of the Reston Unincorporated Village District, especially the reduction in protective services.

On the revenue side, the amount raised by taxes this year are budgeted at $465,825.24 with last year's figure being $561,681.55. Other revenue is as follows with last year's figure in brackets: $52,738.00 ($62,044.00), this is from per capita grants, and transfer from "general reserve" $41,900.00 (nil last year). The breakdown in revenue is as follows: 1971 figures and mill rates in brackets: General school, farm and residential 8.5 mills, $50,316.09 (12.8, $107,294.98); Business and personal property 34.4, $28,936.71 (not applicable in 1971); Special, Fort La Bosse, 16.1, $134,122.50 (17.5, $146,092.35). In 1971 the special school taxes raised by local school districts totalled $24,049.35 with varying mill rates from district to district.

Revenues for other governments: Reston U.V.D. 8.0 mills on exempt property $8,554.40 and 1.1 mills on other property $8,102.33 (Reston L.I.D. last year 9.8 $10,500.11); Pipestone L.I.D. 2.1 $417.76 (1.1 $219.90); Reston Waterworks 50c a foot frontage $11,514.02; District No. 1 8 $824.67 (8, $825.73); No. 2 2.9 $2,987.52 (2.7, $2,750.17). Special levies: Reston Memorial Hall 1.0, $2,135.20 (1.0, $2,135.62); Cromer Rink 0.5, $774.74 (nil); Virden Hospital deficit nil (3), $2327.88; 1970 overexpenditure nil (1.7, $14,324.65).

Sherwood Home $6999.55, (7, $5898.39); Minister of Municipal Affairs 1.4, $11,724.21 (1.3, $10,954.15); General municipal 1.1, $15,723.09 (12.8, $107,294.98); Transportation (excluding Reston U.V.D.) 15.1, $115,431.95 (nil last year); Business tax 10% $14,121.00, (10%, $14,138.00).

The municipal total excluding specials such as Reston Hall District, etc. is 43.7 mills for farm and residential and 69.6 for business and personal property.

It should be noted too, that for every "habitable" dwelling on a parcel a refund of up to $50.00 is applicable, which will mean a further saving.

Writes about Irvin Johnson

by Mrs. Jeanie Reid

SINCLAIR—I read with interest letters and items on Irvin Johnson, the giant born at Sinclair and educated at Bardal School.

Irvin was one of my pupils and I have several school snaps and interesting memories of him.

Quite right that he got on his knees when cars were passing the school in order to lower his height amongst the other pupils. He used to walk to school and in winter time, when he couldn't get shoes to fit, he made an opening at the toe of his rubber, then wrapped the protruding big toe, but one morning it got frozen. Evidently one foot was longer than the other.

He was kind to the younger pupils and they enjoyed the piggy-back rides he gave them. His intention was to be a Civil Engineer and the last year I taught him, he was taking Grade IX.

Later he joined the circus and on his return to Bardal he had a social evening and presented him with a gold jack knife.

The last authentic word we have had about Irvin was at the time of his mother's death about 10 years ago. Evidently he worked as a fireman in the winter months at Coral Gables and while fighting a fire, he was badly burned and in hospital.

Presentations made

RESTON—The Reston Senior Hockey Club held a windup meeting on Wednesday, April 26th in Larry Robinson's office.

Mrs. Helen King, the team's bookkeeper, reported a bank balance of $68.00. A complete set of goalie equipment was purchased during the year as well as an extra set of goalie gloves for the team's left-handed goalie.

A suggestion was made that season tickets be sold next season. The Club was very happy with the fan support they received during the winter.

The meeting closed with the presentation of gifts to Ike and Orville Klusendorf and Helen and Jim King as a token of appreciation for the work with the club.

Ellen Wall dies

RESTON—A funeral service was held on Tuesday at the Carscadden Funeral Home, Virden, for Ellen Wall, 76, a former resident at Reston. She was a sister of the late Mrs. A. Archer and died in Brandon on April 28th.

Burial was in the family plot at the Bradelaine Cemetery in the Lenore district.

Sympathy is extended to Mrs. Claus and family from Bellevue and Pindlay community.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Campbell and girls spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Warren Sheffelt and family of Rounthwaite.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson Sr. of Napinka, visited with Mr. and Mrs. Bob Anderson and Mary Ann.

The river has overflowed making it necessary to go to Melita to get on Highway 83. Folks travelling east must go via Lauder. Getting the extra moisture from the snowstorms down south, which we were lucky enough to miss.

Tim Atchison who is working in Winnipeg, visited his parents Mr. and Mrs. Ted Atchison.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Atchison had a fire last week, burning hay stacks and part of a shed. Really fortunate the wind was n't south east or the barn and the beautiful new home might have burned. Neighbours and folks from far and near helped until the Reston Fire Brigade arrived. A nearby slough supplied plenty of water. An electric fence is thought to be the cause.

Weather is warming up. Surely a good thing the farmers are not depending on old doblin, as time is passing. The new mechanism will soon get the work done. Remember when the big outfits were out seeding by April 12th.

The Frank Phillips sale was on Monday. Their son-in-law Everett Bertholet and wife Beth are taking over. This is the third generation. Mr. Wm. Phillips was the original home-steader.

ALSTONE NOTES

by E. J. Guthrie

A little drizzle at Church time but it didn't discourage a good turnout at Church on Sunday morning. Rev. Ernie took as his subject, the good Samaritan and pointed out very distinctly our responsibility to our fellow man. The good Samaritan didn't investigate to see if the beaten-up man was Jew or Gentile, he went right to work and gave immediate assistance. We would like to pay special tribute to the Choir on Sunday morning. While being a little short in number, they had lots of volume and we thought did very well.

Sheri Hutcheson dropped in at Alstone the other day for a visit. Sheri is a good little visitor.

Katherine McArthur from B. C. and Annie Wyand from Kibbey, Sask., visited with Miss Jessie Jackson on Friday afternoon and some of the Vilas Anderson family called in the evening.

Mrs. Elwyn McConnell and son, and Mary Harrison of Sinclair visited at Alstone one afternoon of last week. They all dropped in at the tee pee.

Laurie Birnie of the butter-milk bar called at Alstone one evening on behalf of the figure skating club.

Stan and Lil Conoley of Glenboro visited in the district on Saturday and called at Alstone to take Lil's mom Mrs. Jezzard home with them. The last report on their brother Bill Jezzard in Winnipeg was that he is in rather guarded condition.

Kay and Bonnie Guthrie, of Winnipeg, were home for the weekend and called to visit Grandpa at the tee pee on Saturday afternoon. Kay when looking for something in Grandpa's basement out at the farm discovered a couple of gallons of maple syrup that something had been put on top of and they must have been there for four or five years. They are top grade and as good as the day they went in the basement. We hope Kay gets some pan cakes out of that find and that he will find two more the next time he comes home.

We extend deepest sympathy to Mrs. Claus of Pipestone and families in the sudden passing of husband, father and grandfather.

We extend greatest thanks to Mrs. Claus and the people of Pipestone United Church for the two bouquets of beautiful flowers brought to Alstone on Sunday afternoon by Dave Forsyth, that came from the funeral of the late Harry Claus. It was a wonderful thought and we of Alstone appreciate it so much.

Rev. Hester held service at Alstone on Sunday afternoon which included reading of the scripture, psalms, a short sermon and song. Elizabeth Guthrie and Miss Jackson gave short readings as well as Rev. Hester. Tea and donuts were served before the service. We have discovered we have a wonderful maker of donuts in our midst, we hope she keeps it up.

When Dave Forsyth came with the flowers he was asked to stay for the service, which he did and enjoyed it. Later on before he went home he gave us some recollections that were his father's, the late William Forsyth. A couple of them were really broad Scotch which were enjoyed specially by those who knew quite a bit of the Scots tongue. Maybe Dave will give us some more at another time.

Some of us attended the AA open meeting in the United Church hall on Sunday night. There were three speakers in attendance, one for each department. The talks were very interesting and the hall was full a wonderful spirit of friendliness prevailed among the gathering. Lunch was served at the close of the meeting.

E. J. accompanied Elmer Bulloch to Glenboro on Monday to meet with a member of the R. C. M. P. Masonic Degree team. Several tractors were seen in the fields enroute. One outfit was seeding.

We are glad to hear that Florence Skelton is well enough that she has been discharged from hospital.

In the event of a nuclear war, there will be no victors, only victims.

To date, eight million refugees have flooded back into the new state of Bangladesh and they are still coming back at the rate of about 100,000 per day.

To cope with this unprecedented influx, UNICEF's relief and rehabilitation program in Bangladesh is becoming the largest aid operation in our agency's 25-year-old history.

UNICEF's planned expenditures are:

CHILD SAFETY WEEK, MAY 1—8

The toll taken of children's lives and health in Canada by accidents is staggering—some two thousand killed and tens of thousands injured seriously.

What can be done about it? The Canada Safety Council offers no easy solutions. But progress will be made in reducing accident through simultaneous improvement in the following four areas:

1. Safety education of children at home and school.
2. Creation of a safe environment for children.
3. The assumption of parental responsibility for the safety of children.
4. The assumption of responsibility by adults, especially drivers, for the safety of children.

To be effective, safety education must change the attitudes of children towards safety, starting in the pram and continuing until adulthood.

Children must know how to cope with traffic before being allowed to "run out and play." They must know the rules of the road and traffic safety before being allowed to bicycle on public roads. They must be taught to swim before being allowed to play in any but shallow bodies of water.

To create a safe environment for children, all poisonous substances must be kept away from tots as well as stove and electrical hazards. The very young should never be left alone in baths or wading pools.

Net fret, no fuss, that hour of sleep you lost Sunday morning will be restored on Sunday, Oct. 29th and in the meanwhile you can enjoy an extra hour of daylight after supper to garden, golf, go to a baseball game or what have you. But, as the opponents of daylight saving—and there are still many—say, you could achieve the same results by getting up an hour earlier, and advance your day's schedule by that amount of time. Quite right! However, the opponents appear fewer each year, as now the only province that does not change to daylight saving is Saskatchewan. Alberta joined the ranks this year, following a plebiscite. . . . Looking for a stray printer? Outdoors Only

By The Rambler
No. 249

Well, did everyone have a very pleasant weekend? Many people must have enjoyed themselves, considering only temperatures that chummed around in the 60's. Part-time clear skies and light winds added to outdoor enjoyment, and permitted roving of all kinds.

Such conditions proved a boon to all growing things and feathered migrants alike. The weekend certainly boosted the greening of lawns, the blossoming of willows and poplars to produce a pale verdant blush on bluffs, and the budding of larger kinds of trees. With this, too, appeared many kinds of birds filling up spaces of wintry silence with spring melodies and rehearsals for early-summer chorale. Anyway, whether or not it's songbirds, predators, shorebirds or waterbirds, they are all getting into the act now and deserve your attention for the wonders and beauties that their lives present.

Careful observation led to a detailed report from Mrs. Audrey Flannery about the unusual in the midst of the common-place—specifically, a partial albino House Sparrow seen April 17. Later, it was observed twice at a distance of about eight feet and displaying white underparts and tail, and red skin on legs and feet. The black spot on the chest, typical on male House Sparrows, was replaced by clear whiteness with no marking, suggesting the bird may be a female. Mrs. Flannery possesses an excellent eye for color and detail, remarking on the color of the Sparrow's cap: "rust of lilac leaves that are still hanging on the bush. Many thanks, Mrs. Flannery."

Mr. Jacob Isaac of Cromer reports having a Bald Eagle at his farm as of April 25. It was feeding on remains of a carcass of a sow and a piglet that had been disposed of. This sort of meal is not unusual for Bald Eagles, for they are primarily carrion eaters, although usually in the form of fish. The bird at Mr. Isaac's farm likely is a spring migrant drifting north to the Qu'Appelle Valley or the Pasquia Hills of Saskatchewan or the Porcupine Mountains of Manitoba, a bird couldn't help spotting an interesting bit of variety for its diet. Mr. Isaac commented on the rarity of such eagles; that he hadn't seen one for nine years.

Mrs. Jim Donald kindly reported the return of Purple Martins as of April 25, with one on that date and four more the day after that. Purple Martins in numbers may be a mixed blessing to some persons; for others, the presence of these birds provides a cheery sound and sight.

Thanks to Mrs. H. Barkman for bringing to our attention the return of Common Snipe (or Wilson's Snipe), April 25, noticed by the diving in flight and the accompanying descending sound of shaky low whistled notes. These are courtship flight sounds that the male bird produces by the way it controls tail feathers during its swift diving toward the ground. The following day, the Barkmans saw an American Bittern and a Willet (it seems to cry "Pill-Will-Will"). Similarly, on April 25, son Kevin and I spotted and heard a Marbled Godwit about 4 miles north of Melita as they swung overhead calling "Crazy, Crazy, Crazy." In a wheezing, nasal tenor voice. This is a mottled-brown fairly large shorebird with a long, slightly upcurving bill. The same day, early in the morning when I was glad to take out the garbage, a Philadelphia Vireo, with dark olive-green back and yellowish breast, very obligingly flitted across my sight and back again. A drive the next day brought sight of a Loggerhead Shrike, local summer re-

The Days Gone By

10 YEARS AGO (April 28, 1962)

George Toews, of Ewart, ran over a Canada Lynx on the road about a mile east of Lambton School one evening last week. The Lynx, rare in these parts weighed about 30 pounds. . . . Larry Robinson was re-elected as president of the Reston Golf Club at a meeting held at the Trails Inn on Monday. Lew Trail was re-elected as vice-president and Wilfred Campbell as treasurer. His financial report showed expenditures of $1487.75 and a bank balance of $102.00. Improvements to the lay-out included 300 hours of labor picking stones under the Winter Works program and application is being made for another 300 hours this year. . . . The instability of installing air conditioning units at the Reston Hospital was discussed at the meeting of the board on Monday. Several bids were received for the installation of a stand-by power unit and a decision will be made soon on the matter, after the bids have been studied.

20 YEARS AGO (May 1, 1952)

A two hour fight saved Tilston from a prairie fire which started west of town and threatened the entire village. Only the fact that the sports grounds had been burnt off two days previously & hard work by the sident of the two kinds of Shrike in Manitoba.

Velma Daryl and Grand Toews were observers of a trio of Whistling Swans flying over their farm last Sunday. These white giants (48-55 inches long) flew northward, possibly anticipating arctic landings in the next week or so. And Collette Barre was the lucky observer, May 1, to witness approximately 100 Sandhill Cranes in a field northeast of Bellevue. Did you see them dancing, Collette?

The past week produced several reports (for which we are grateful) about the thousands of geese on a staging area in the vicinity of Scarth and east of Highway 83. From details of these reports one may conclude that the masses of geese are comprised of Canada Geese, White-fronted Geese, Snow Geese, Blue Geese and maybe a few Brant Geese.

A variety of species kept giving Rambler and family pleasant surprises last week. April 28: Common Snipe, Reddy Duck, Blue-winged Teal, Kingfisher, Pied-billed Grebe, Tree Swallow (Greenish-blue on top, pure white underneath); April 29: a thrush (probably Gray-cheeked Thrush), Sora Rail (late in evening); April 30: Green-winged Teal, Song Sparrow, White-throated Sparrow; and May 1: Chipping Sparrow. Whether or not you see more or less of different birds, later on, please let us hear your reports; they are all valuable and interesting.

How about something different to ponder? At about 9:30 a.m. April 27, Mr. Albert Penner, Curtis Isaac and another gentleman suddenly saw a tall cat beside Highway 13 just a mile inside Saskatchewan. As the observers noted it moving off along a ditch, only a rear view of the animal was possible. Nevertheless, the long leg, short tail, blackish back and gray flanks were evident. It was thought to be a Bobcat, which the daytime sighting would rather confirm. The apparent colouration, however, is more that of a lynx, although color variations do exist in the bobcat. The latter of the two species has been considered extinct in much, if not all, of southern Manitoba, and so one is rather led to believe, for lack of more or better evidence, that the critter in question is a south-straying lynx. It might even be the animal seen about ten days ago a short distance east of Reston.

The planet Venus, still shining very brightly in the western evening sky, will reach greatest brilliance May 11. Following, June 17; then reappear soon pass between earth and the sun it will reduce in luminosity; afterward in the morning sky before sunrise. It was for $35.70 the royalty on the 128 barrels of oil produced in the short, but spectacular life of the well on his property. The oil was trucked to the Northern Petroleum Co. refinery at Kam-sack, Sask. . . . Between 17 and 20 tractor and cultivating implements took part in the bee on the farm of George Walker Jr., in the Linklater district on Wednesday. Some interesting municipal items in April 20 "Recorder". First, the Albert Council adopted a five year capital expenditure program which is a program set out by the Minister of Municipal Affairs showing proposed capital expenditures and sources of revenue for the next five years.

Seems they are still being handed their orders from the deputy minister. Can remember one saying: "I wonder if we won't soon have to ask permission to go outside and take a deep breath."

Turn a page and check the items of 20 and 30 years ago and you can see that wage rates more than doubled in 10 years. Of course, we just have super men on the job now who can force the future.

The 30 years ago uses the word "sold" in mentioning transfers of property by the Pipestone Council for amounts of $425.00 for a half section up to $2000.00 for a full section. There is no mention as to whether these were cash or time prices. Wouldn't the sanity of any body of men be called in question if they gave land away today.

It would be interesting to know how many times these parcels of land have paid for themselves these 30 years; and still there are people who resent the idea of paying capital gains tax.

And property owners got notices lately for each parcel of land they own showing the number of residence on each. Looks like the happy days are gone when there was school tax rebate on each separate parcel.

A variety of species kept giving Rambler and family pleasant surprises last week. April 28: Common Snipe, Ruddy Duck, Blue-winged Teal, Kingfisher, Pied-billed Grebe, Tree Swallow (Greenish-blue on top, pure white underneath); April 29: a thrush (probably Gray-checked Thrush), Song Sparrow (late in evening); April 30: Green-winged Teal, Song Sparrow, White-throated Sparrow; and May 1: Chipping Sparrow. Whether or not you see more or less of different birds, later or sooner, please let us hear your reports; they are all valuable and interesting.

How about something different to ponder? At about 9:30 a.m. April 27, Mr. Albert Penner, Curtis Isaac and another gentleman suddenly saw a tall cat beside Highway 13 just a mile inside Saskatchewan. As the observers noted it moving off along a ditch, only a rear view of the animal was possible. Nevertheless, the long leg, short tail, blackish back and gray flanks were evident. It was thought to be a Bobcat, which the daytime sighting would rather confirm. The apparent colouration, however, is more that of a lynx, although colour variations do exist in the bobcat. The latter of the two species has been considered extinct in much, if not all, of southern Manitoba, and so one is rather led to believe, for lack of more or better evidence, that the critter in question is a south-straying lynx. It might even be the animal seen about ten days ago a short distance east of Reston.

The planet Venus, still shining very brightly in the western evening sky, will reach greatest brilliance May 11. Following, June 17, then reappear soon pass between earth and the sun it will reduce in luminosity; afterward in the morning sky before sunrise. Maybe the planet's moving out of sight will coincide with the date of the general election. How about that!

Yours naturally,
RAMBLER

volunteers saved the situation.

Two small buildings, a pole barn used by T. Pitt and a slaughter house on the M. A. Macdonald property were destroyed. The first oil royalty cheque ever paid to a private citizen in Manitoba was received by George Walker Sr., on Friday of last week. It was for $35.70 the royalty on the 128 barrels of oil produced in the short, but spectacular life of the well on his property. The oil was trucked to the Northern Petroleum Co. refinery at Kam-sack, Sask. Between 17 and 20 tractor and cultivating implements took part in the bee on the farm of George Walker Jr., in the Linklater district on Wednesday. George is in Deer Lodge Hospital having had his hand operated on. Organizers of the bee were: Jim Yates, Elmer Zarn, Norman Walker and Jack Walker.

30 YEARS AGO (May 7, 1942)

Gunners Onufri Olenick and Arthur Busby who have spent the past two weeks at their respective homes left via Virden on Saturday for Nanaimo, B. C. where they will continue training. Pte. Dan Stewart of the Veterans Guard at Espano, Ont., is spending a few days with friends at Tilston. Work on the land has been held back by the weather and excessive moisture conditions. Very little seeding has been done to date.

The Cedar Chest, made by Mr. Hazen Bigney, on which tickets were sold was won by Mrs. Jas. Forsyth of Ewart and $41.00 was realized for the Red Cross. Rev. A. Freibert has accepted the offer of the Tilston United Church to remain there for the coming year. The C. S. Munro Co. are offering Women's Farm Oxford for 2.65 per pair.

Butter being so cheap some farmers are using it as axle grease, it being as good as the commercial article and much cheaper. With radio licences doubled and a two cent advance on the gasoline tax, the governments surely are going hard after the poor unfortunate who operate either a radio or car or both. On Wednesday morning three trucks left for the Riding Mountains to bring home loads of evergreen trees for the Reston Cemetery. The Tilston group can be proud of receiving the highest marks in the South-Western Manitoba Drama League Play Festival at Melita on last Thursday and Friday. Members of the group were: Mrs. Stokes, Mr. Stokes, Rev. Cavers, Mr. Ted Armstrong and Miss R.

Granger. The bulk of the wheat seeding was completed by Saturday night. The City of Winnipeg and the Provincial Legislature have pressed the Dominion Government for a back to the land movement and the latter now indicates interest in taking part in promoting such a scheme.

50 YEARS AGO (May 4, 1923)

A very large percentage of the wheat seeding will be completed by the weekend. Wheat acreage is not as large as last year as farmers are planting more coarse grains. At a child's health clinic at Tilston last week, Dr. Fryer, of Virden assisted by Dr. Clark of Reston operated on 16 tonsal cases and 12 of this number also had their adenoids removed. Mrs. Edward Sterling generously gave the use of her spacious home and the well lighted dining room was used for the operations. The clinic was arranged by the Tilston W. I. Mr. Wm. Norton is now the proprietor of the Sinclair Garage. Business places in Reston will close on Thursday afternoon commencing the third Thursday in May and continuing until harvest. When there is a public holiday in the week, however, the business will remain open all day on Thursday.

60 YEARS AGO (May 2, 1912)

A gasoline breaking outfit owned by Norman McLean went through Reston on Friday evening, the first of its kind to be seen here. One of our weather prophets predicted on Tuesday evening during the thunder storm, that it was the forerunner of a spell of warm weather. The construction of a Church at Hillview will be undertaken this spring and it is expected to be ready for use at an early date. Jas. R. McLean has purchased a handsome Clyde stallion "King's Heir" and has it at his farm south of Reston. The animal has been much admired by those who have seen it. Dr. Kennedy & Kennedy of Detroit, Michigan, with a Canadian office at Windsor, Ont., guarantee cures of nervous debility, blood diseases, varicose veins, kidney, bladder and urinary diseases. If not cure is made there is no charge. If a person cannot make the trip to Detroit or Windsor, diagnoses can be made through the mail.

Fairbairn continues to make good showing in "Big League"

(from The Columbian Sunday Magazine)

When winter comes to Brandon, Manitoba, you do one of two things. You play hockey or you watch it.

A boy born in Brandon has three natural instincts: he loves his parents, he loves hockey and he dislikes referees.

A boy learns how to walk mainly because that's the best way to get to the hockey rink. Christmas isn't complete without a new stick and pair of skates tucked away under the tree.

Manitoba weather has been described as "10 months of winter and two months of tough skating." Little wonder then that the rinks are full of aspiring National Hockey League kids who would shun the life of a movie star for that of a professional hockey player.

Bill Fairbairn is one of many Brandon boys to grow up and fulfil that dream. He's now in the uniform of the New York Rangers, in the midst of his third NHL season with one of pro hockey's top teams.

It's been a long and exhausting journey from the South End Recreation Centre to Madison Square Garden. But Fairbairn, with a steady no-nonsense approach to his profession, has made it.

Ask anyone who saw him play junior hockey six years ago and they'll be quick to tell you they never doubted Fairbairn would play in the NHL. As matter of fact, if there's a person in Brandon who's not a Fairbairn fan, he's never been heard from.

A hockey player, like anyone else learning a job, goes through a training session—something close to an apprenticeship. An apprenticeship in hockey comes at the junior level. It's at that stage they learn to hit, to back-check continuously.

Fairbairn was lucky when he started his junior career. The general manager of the Brandon Wheat Kings at that time was Jake Milford, a personable professor from the old school of hockey. Fairbairn's coaches in junior days included the Dorothy brothers, Ollie and Eddie, whose methods were as different as their playing styles.

The Dorothys had the ability to teach while Fairbairn was more than willing to listen, and work. Dedication became a part of him. When he wasn't playing in a game, he was practising.

They'd shut the lights off on the outdoor rink at the community centre at 9 p.m. Fairbairn, who usually had been there since supper time, would then move to the nearest corner where he could practice under the dim illumination of a street light.

A typical example of his desire came one week before the opening of Wheat Kings' 1965 training camp. Knowing it was his last year of junior, he didn't want to waste any of it.

So he decided to get in shape. He jumped on a bicycle and pedalled to his aunt's house. When he got there he said hello, turned around and headed home. The fact that his aunt lives 70 miles from Brandon gives an indication of how hard he was willing to work. And all that was just to get in shape for training camp!

Fairbairn can't, and probably never will, be described as a smooth player. Finesse is not his bag. He's a powerful skater, seldom straying from his position along the boards.

He's what you call a fine positional hockey player," says Elie Francis, the Rangers' coach and general manager. "Bill is solid on his feet, aggressive, he's a tough man to knock down."

As tough as he might be on the ice, Fairbairn is just as quiet once he takes his skates off. At no time in his 25 years has Bill been known to say two words when he could get by with one. If he had his way, he probably wouldn't say anything.

Life hasn't been a bed of roses for Bill Fairbairn, but at the same time his is no rags-to-riches story.

His father passed away while Bill was quite young, leaving him the man of the house. His mother and two sisters were his most loyal fans up until one year ago when he married a girl from his home town.

When Fairbairn completed his junior eligibility, being a product of the Ranger organization, he was assigned to Omaha of the Central League. In two years there he scored 51 goals and added 80 assists. That kind of performance earned him a job with the parent club.

His rookie year with the Rangers was simply fantastic. Teamed with Walter Tkaczuk and Dave Balon, Fairbairn scored 23 times and picked up 33 assists for 56 points. The assist and point totals stand as Ranger team records for a rookie.

Only a superlative year by Chicago goaltender Tony Esposito stopped Fairbairn from picking up enough votes to win the NHL's Calder Trophy as rookie of the year.

A bout of mononucleosis laid Fairbairn low for most of last season as he proved susceptible to the sophomore jinx. But a rigid summer program of 200 pushups a day and various other exercises have worked and he's now scoring at a rate to match his record clip.

Bill's friends from Brandon haven't forgotten him. Some make the trip to Minneapolis two or three times a year to see the Rangers play the Minnesota North Stars.

That's a 900-mile round trip but it's easier than trying to phone him in New York.

This writer tried to get Fairbairn on the phone last winter. Starting at 6 a.m. Manitoba time and ending up with a frustrated operator about four hours later.

Having the address, right phone number, I enlisted the down to the zip code, but no aid of a New York operator. She informed me I'd have to talk to the Manhattan people, not her department which was in Queens.

Trying Manhattan, I was told to call Brooklyn. And so on, right through several more suburbs and three police precincts before a sergeant on duty at the Fourth precinct came to the rescue.

"We've been trying to find the exact location of Mr. Bill Fairbairn's residence at 2141 Atlantic Boulevard," said the Manitoba operator. "It's been four hours now so could you help us," she added.

"No problem," came the voice of the friendly peace officer. "Just go two blocks over the bridge and turn right..." by Larry Tucker, Sports Writer Editor's note: With the Rangers currently playing the Boston Bruins for the Stanley Cup, we thought the above item quite timely. Bill has uncles, aunts, cousins and many friends in the Pipestone and surrounding districts.

'Hospital Day' will be held on May 12th

RESTON—The Reston Community Hospital has laid on a number of special events for May 12, to celebrate Canada Hospital Day. According to Kelly Exner, administrator the hospital will between 2:00 and 4:00 p. m. display equipment, serve tea and cookies and conduct tours.

"By these activities we hope to focus attention on the hospital as a community institution," he said. "This is in keeping with this year's theme 'This is the house that the citizen's built.'"

Canada Hospital Day, which will be observed by more than 1,415 hospitals across the country has been officially proclaimed by John Munro, the Minister of National Health and Welfare, and coincides with the birthday of Florence Nightingale, pioneer of hospital health care. It is sponsored by the Canadian Hospital Association and supported by Provincial hospital association. Reston Community Hospital staff will concentrate their effort on activities designed to give citizens a better insight into hospital operation.

"We hope people will take advantage of these opportunities to come and see what we do here," Mr. Exner said. "We also hope to have as many of our staff on hand as possible to answer questions. Hopefully, we can establish some dialogue. We think that's good for us as well as for the public."

Hospitals should be seen as true community institutions, Mr. Exner explained. Once it is there, it needs the community to keep it going. Local people serve on the board of trustees or act as volunteers. Many of the staff are also local citizens. All this of service patients who are also mostly from the community itself.

"Hospitals are not only for restoring, but also for maintaining health," Mr. Exner said. "A high standard of health care is of vital importance to any community. But we like to feel we have the people behind us."

He added: "By Canada Hospital Day we hope to draw a little extra attention to that, and this year in particular we like to remind people that the Reston Community Hospital is theirs."

May 12th is the anniversary of the birth of Florence Nightingale in 1820. She became known as "The Lady of the Lamp" and pioneered the concepts of hygiene and sanitation that although accepted today, represented significant advances in health standards during the second half of the nineteenth century. She became famous for the establishment of a military hospital during the Crimean War of 1854 and the founding in 1860 of the Nightingale School and Home for training nurses at St. Thomas's Hospital, London, England.

We feel that the job will have a lasting effect and certainly is a vast improvement in the appearance. Thanks you all!
